

CAREY S. CLARK

Bachelor of Science in nursing, '99

Assistant Professor University of Maine at Augusta

Clark has worked with the nurse manifest project, performing grassroots research about the state of nursing practice today. A Usui Reiki Master, she has published articles about the nursing shortage and caring in nursing academia in journals such as the International Journal for Human Caring, Advances in Nursing Science, and the International Journal of Nursing Education Scholarship, and she writes a blog for the Nurse Manifest Project.

She is a member of the American Holistic Nurses Association, the International Human Caring Association, and Sigma Theta Tau. In addition, she served as a trustee of the Monte Rio School Board. Clark is the 2001 recipient of the Outstanding Graduate Nursing Student Award for commitment to university service at California State University, Dominguez Hills. She was awarded the Jean Watson Human Caring scholarship to attend and present at the International Human Caring Conference in 2003. She received the Carrie B. Lenburg Award from Excelsior College in 2009.

› PhD in Transformative Learning and Change, 2005
California Institute of Integral Studies

› MSN in Nursing Education, 2001
California State University-Dominguez Hills