

ANN MICHELE HEYMANN

Bachelor of Science in nursing, '88

Heymann served as certified nurse-midwife for MedPro in Phoenix, Ariz., and holds a CNM and an FNP from the Frontier School of Nurse-Midwifery and Family Nursing. She has provided direct patient services, supervised nursing and midwifery students in multiple locations, been a lecturer for university-based midwifery and nursing programs, taught in a distance-learning midwifery program at Philadelphia University, and supervised medical students and residents for the Phoenix Integrated Resident Program for Obstetrics and Gynecology.

She helped establish the first BSN program in Malawi, was the first health care provider for the M.O. Mobile outreach clinic for monolingual Spanish-speaking undocumented immigrants, and established a women's health program in Kosovo. She has written proposals and curriculums, obtained funding, established and delivered training programs, and provided continuing education in Rwanda, Ethiopia, Eritrea, Sri Lanka, Kosovo, Tajikistan, and Malawi. She received Excelsior's Carrie B. Lenburg Award in 2007.

Midwife

Phoenix, Arizona

- › MSN, 1990
Western Reserve University