

AMY LEVI

Associate in Science in nursing, '80

Levi is a fellow in the American Academy of Nursing and a fellow of the American College of Nurse-Midwives. Her research interests are related to sexual and reproductive health, with an emphasis on midwifery scope of practice, primary care, global women's health, and management of unintended pregnancy. She is a member of Clinicians for Choice, Association of Reproductive Health Practitioners, Nurse Practitioners in Women's Health, Directors of Midwifery Education, and California Nurse-Midwives Association Inc. At the American College of Nurse-Midwives, she is chair of the research section and chair of the nominating committee for the division of global health. A member of Sigma Theta Tau, she also serves on the editorial board of Evidence-Based Midwifery.

Levi has received the Sigma Theta Tau Nursing Honor Society, Eta Beta Chapter award; the Lillian Sholtis Brunner Award for Innovative Nursing Practice; and the Excellence in Teaching Award from the American College of Nurse-Midwives Foundation.

*Albers Endowed
Professor of Midwifery
University of New Mexico
Albuquerque, New Mexico*

› PhD in Nursing, 2000
University of Pennsylvania

› MSN, 1986
University of Pennsylvania

› BSN, 1985
Widener University